Sales Points:

- From the French translator of Patricia Cornwell
- Third in the stunning medieval mysteries, The Agnes de Souarcy Chronicles.
- French sales of the Chronicles over 124,000 to date.
- Features an engaging, young heroine.

The Book:

Normandy 1304.
Agnes de Souarcy has survived the medieval Inquisition, but remains the focus of an ancient quest. Her protectors must do battle with the powerful enemies of the quest who will stop at nothing to see it fail.
Where friend and foe are hard to tell apart, few are truly who they seem and all have something to hide. Who is the poisoner at Clairets Abbey? Where is the sacred papyrus to be found? And what is the link to the Vatican and the King of France? 'Five women, in the centre the sixth' are the enigmatic words foretelling Agnes's destiny. But as events come to a head, will she continue to live simply as a woman of her time or fulfil the role that has been prophesied?

The Author:

Author of about twenty novels, Andrea Japp is considered one of the 'queens' of crime writing in France.

Praise for The Agnes de Souarcy Chronicles.
'...captivating characters...and vivid descriptions.'
Le Figaro

'...enthralling, page after page.'
